

Hear the word of our Lord – Luke

The Gospel readings for 2025 come mainly from the book of Luke. St Luke's gospel is the most accessible of the four, the softest in some ways, the one that emphasises the future power of the poor the most and which most often represents Jesus in prayer. During Lent, we will be repeating last year's reading of the Gospel in one session, much as the early Christians would have done.

It will take place in the Old School Room, Winterborne Whitechurch on Saturday 8th March 2025 at 10.30am. Lunch will be provided (by donation) and we aim to finish by 3pm at the latest.

If you would like to take part and read one of the chapters, enter your name here (it updates automatically with no need to save anything, but a laptop is preferable to using your phone).

Or if you wish to come along and just listen, you are very welcome. It would be helpful though to know numbers for catering purposes.
